New York Stock Exchange.

New York, July 11.—The tone of the stock market was feverish, and the indications of free realizations were plentiful. The bears were aided by reports of the strike on the Northwestern and Burlington, but buying towards the close took on a more confidential character. St. Paul, Western Union and Reading were the centres of attraction, but very decided movements were made of some specialties, among which Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western were most conspicuous, advancing 3/4 per cent. The close was firm, at fractions above the opening. Governments firm, fairly active.
